Description

The design of this light is a symbolic representation of a light source. Representing the shape of a bulb in simplified form, the shape of the shade indicates to us that this object is a light even when it is not working. It is a symbolic object, the technology is very simple, the construction economic. Here, it is the image which predominates, the design is not linked to a technology or innovative practice, it is the design which triggers the imagination, the senses, the memory...
